Lights, camera, action! Another movie is being filmed at Dennis Conner's North Cove today.

In addition to being New York City's premier location for mega yachts, Dennis Conner's North Cove is used frequently by the movie industry. In recent years, Will Smith, Woody Allen and Jodi Foster have been seen around the marina with directors positioning their cameras to capture the waterfront scenes. All this just adds to the magic of North Cove, Battery Park City and Downtown Manhattan.

Today's movie shot involved a new Russian actress and her leading man filming a romantic scene on dock G.

So whether you are docked at North Cove for the Tribeca Film Festival with Robert DeNiro walking by or watching one of the other movies being filmed during the summer and fall, there is always a bit more energy and excitement than any other marina. Next time you are here, keep a look out for some of the many movie stars and super models who live in the nearby community.
